

SOCIETY AND PERSONAL

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTAIN THE MEDINA REBEKAHS

The reception given to the Rebekahs by the Odd Fellows at Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening proved a most enjoyable affair. There were upwards of 200 present despite competing social activities. Elaborate preparations had been made for the event and those present spent a very pleasant evening.

Several stunts were pulled to vary the program of the evening. Dancing was one of the principal entertainment features, and both before and after supper there was tripping of the light fantastic toe. Table arrangements had been made to feed 100 at a time, and the tables were filled twice. The menu was one of the most inspiring events of the gathering.

Shortly after the guests arrived "Sister Gloria" was introduced to the assembled company. She proved to be a bewitching and entertaining "Sister" in the person of Ed. Handchys dressed somewhat as Aunt Jemimah, of pancake flour fame is usually dressed. She made a big hit and through the evening kept things moving among the young people. Taken all in all it proved one of the most enjoyable events in the history of the order.

MRS. EUGENE CLEMENT TO ENTERTAIN COTERIE

Coterie will meet Feb. 8 with Mrs. Eugene Clement as hostess. The following program will be presented:

Responses—Selections from Shakespeare.

Ancient and Modern Mesopotamia and the Suez Canal by Mrs. G. H. Smith.

Judea and the Herods, Julius Caesar, by Mrs. Clark.

Including a talk by a Y. W. C. A. representative.

BOYS ONLY AT M. E. GIRLS ONLY AT BAPTIST

Special services are now in progress at the M. E. church. Pastor Bryenton says Evangelist Reed and his party have made a fine impression. Sunday will be a red letter day. Special services at 3 p. m. Rev. Reed will address men and boys only in the M. E. church on the topic "When Chickens Come Home to Roost."

Mrs. C. Penwick Reed will speak at the Baptist church on the topic "Damaged Goods, or Who Pays." This service for women and girls only.

FOOTBALL SQUAD FEAST AS SENIORS LEAVE GAME

A banquet was given Thursday evening to the Medina Football team complimentary to the retiring seniors. There were about 30 present and a most enjoyable social time was enjoyed. Prof. Conkle was toastmaster and Miss Chapman's cooking class furnished the menu. Supper was served at 7 o'clock in rooms in the Garfield building.

After supper Prof. Conkle called on the retiring seniors for short talks. Messrs. Carl Anderson, Louis Boli, Thos. Rothaker, Wayland Hyde, Carter Bennett, Harold Worden and Captain Standon responding. Later Willard Garver, though not a senior, but "because he was fat" was called on and did himself proud.

At the close of the senior talks Wayland Hyde presented Prof. Conkle and Coach Rader pipes, to which Conkle and Rader responded with feeling.

It proved a most enjoyable occasion and after the social events of the evening the boys gave the professor and teachers the High school yell in appreciation.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT FILLS CONG. CHURCH

The O. S. U. Glee Club concert given in the Congregational church auditorium Wednesday evening was a great success. The auditorium, Sunday school room, Bible class room and the church aisles were filled to overflowing with an enthusiastic throng. Never before has this auditorium been so completely jammed as was the case Wednesday evening.

Tickets were soon sold to fill the auditorium. But as many purchased seats, complimentary, and did not intend to be present, seat sales continued up to the hour of beginning the program. Not only were all seats and aisle chairs filled, but every foot of standing space was occupied and about a hundred went home after a discouraging effort to get a foot inside the church.

Not only was it a big throng that crowded the church, but the individual atoms making up this crowd were filled to overflowing with exuberance—"pep" may be a more comprehensive word. While the program was good and greatly enjoyed, the spirit of the thing itself—a concert by O. S. U. Glee Club, on which were our own Ohio boys—drew forth a flow of good spirits and enthusiasm seldom equalled. And the beauty of the whole thing was that it was spontaneous and without premeditation.

There were 40 college lads who were present and took part in the program. The program was varied, instrumental and vocal, and many of the numbers brought forth several encores. The High school and grammar schools boys and girls, of whom there were many in the audience, enjoyed the entertainment as never before, and the applause they set up was a special source of inspiration to those on the program.

A tidy sum was netted by the High school pupils under whose auspices the glee club was brought to Medina. L. H. Randall, an alumnus, was one of the moving spirits in directing the campaign and he was greatly pleased with the reception given the club.

DANNLEYS ENTERTAIN STUDENTS AND FRIENDS

Mrs. John Dannley, whose home is very popular with the Medina young people, entertained a bunch of O. S. U. boys and their guests after the concert Wednesday evening. Mrs. Dannley furnished entertainment for four students, and two Medina friends who were entertaining two each were also invited. Together there was a most entertaining party, and those who participated rejoice over the privilege.

There was a good social time, dancing and later refreshments. The party broke up about 1 a. m.

SOCIETY NOTES.

"Fruit of His Folly" is the title of a drama to be put on at the York town hall Saturday night.

The ladies of the Church of Christ met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Brought, Bishop Court.

The "Story Hour" is to be held at the Public Library at 4 p. m., Saturday. Mrs. A. L. Boyden will tell stories and all children 10 years and younger are invited to come.

Miss Kathryn Bartholomay entertained eight of her girl friends with 500 on Monday night. After the games there were dainty refreshments and a good social time.

The regular meeting of the Security Benefit association, formerly the Knights and Ladies of Security, will be held at the K. of P. hall Wednesday evening, Feb. 4. A social time is planned.

Miss Kathryn Bartholomay and Miss Elizabeth Branch will entertain Saturday evening at the home of Miss Bartholomay. Covers will be laid for twelve, the company comprising young men and women.

A fine social time was had by the Loyal Daughters and C. C. C. classes of the Church of Christ Sunday school in the parlors of the church Tuesday evening. A full attendance of both classes was present to enjoy the festivities.

S. M. Salisbury's and Mrs. Chas. Hammerschmidt's classes in the M. E. Sunday school are planning for a sleighride party and social good time on Saturday evening.

The social given in St. Paul's Parishes house Saturday evening in honor of the soldier boys and the choir and friends, proved a most pleasurable occasion. There was a social good time, cards, dancing in the early hours of the evening, and a very happy time in a picnic lunch.

The office force at the Root plant are planning for a unique social event at the home of Miss Wanda White tonight—Thursday. It is to be a "Kid Party" with the usual youngster stunts. Report says there will be youngster dressing, games, and eats that please boys and girls in their teens.

Seniors A of the High school held a class party Monday evening at the home of Carl (Chas.) Anderson. The young people had a most enjoyable time; danced, lunched, had a good time socially, with music to round out the occasion. These boys and girls are now through the work in the High school and have only to receive their diplomas at the June commencement.

The boys comprising L. H. Randall's Sunday school class in the Congregational school, are laying great store on a class social to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Garver some night next week. This social was necessarily postponed last week, so that the boys, when they do meet, are certain to have worked up both appetite and exuberance.

The Quality Store

Semi-Annual

Remnant

Sale

As a natural result of a brisk holiday trade and the eminently successful sales we have recently held, a large quantity of short lengths, broken lines and odd lots have accumulated all over the store. To quickly clear shelves and counters and to make room for the incoming spring goods, we offer all these remnants, strays and waifs at prices astonishingly low compared with their real value.

Many of these goods will be arranged on tables in the center aisle where they may be easily inspected, but in addition to the table attractions there will be odds and ends in every department of the store. Ask to see them.

We call especial attention to our offering of short length dress goods, ginghams, percales, etc., for these lines are most alluring. Perhaps there may be enough to make a waist, a little school dress or a boy's blouse; or you may find enough attractive material to finish that quilt grandma is making—there are a dozen uses for these good remnants.

These offerings will soon march off at the quick-step prices we attach to them, so if you think you want some of the best bargains of the winter, come in as early as possible, for we predict a speedy clearance of our remnants. Come tomorrow if you can, for the choicest pieces will go first, and some one may secure the yard or two of dress goods, gingham, lace or ribbon that might have been yours if you had come a little sooner.

All Remnants and Odds and Ends 1/4 to 1/2 off.

All Ready to Wear Goods at the same special prices we quoted last week with the exception of some numbers which are still further reduced.
